HKBU Community Service Week 2023 BUild LOVE 2.0 Service Day

HKBU Community Service Week 2023 BUild LOVE 2.0 Service Day was successfully organised on 1 April. Nearly 200 service recipients came to the campus of HKBU to participate in a variety of activities designed by our student volunteers, such as DIY workshops, bocce match, campus tour etc., in which they enjoyed very much. The service day also allowed our student volunteers to better understand the needs of different vulnerable groups in our society and to promote an inclusive and equitable society. Highlights

Youth Development Blueprint

The information session of Youth Development Blueprint was successfully held on 21 April. Around 40 students and staff joined the session. It was our honour to have Mr. Lau Ka Ki, Wallace, JP, the Commissioner for Youth as the guest speaker. He shared with us the details of the Blueprint and interacted with four student representatives on the hurdles and assistance from the government in education, employment, entrepreneurship and home ownership.

Service Leadership

Students enrolled in GCAP 3067 Path to Service Leadership in Health Services have successfully conducted three care services to 14 elders during the course. At the first encounter, our students interviewed the elderly to know more about their needs and livelihood, while in the second meeting, our students applied their learning and performed Tuina on the elders. In the final service, a series of tailored activities were designed by our students to create a positive experience for the elderly in the post-pandemic era.

Community Engagement

Funded by the Dreamer Lab Award, two students studying in School of Chinese Medicine have started the 'Riceing Up' Project to offer tips of good health and wellness based on Chinese food therapy. The first health magazine has been issued covering various health tips, food therapy menus and benefits of Chinese herbs. Please click here to have a look.

Cultural Literacy

About 50 participants joined the Star Chat on 24 April. Our guest speakers Dr. Luk and Ms. Xiang had a great interaction with our moderator Dr. Howard Choy and our participants. They shared about the experience they had during the pandemic and brought out the message of facing the future in a positive way.
